SYNOD OF VIRGINIA,

FOURTH DAY-AFTERNOON SESSION.

DEMISSION OF THE MINISTRY. The unflatshed business of last night was taken up, when the Rev. J. R. Bowman spoke in support of the action of the Lexington Presbytery. He took the ground that this was not a case of demission of the ministry; that the Presbytery had not allowed Mr. Ruffaer to demit the office of the ministry, but had deposed him from the ministry, but without censure. He replied to the argument of Dr. Lefevre of last night. He bad promised the Synod to give them the law. but had only given the decisions of the Assembly. The decisions of a court are not law. There are two kinds of deposition; one on the ground of crime, the other on grounds not inferring crime. It was the latter that the Lexington Presbytery had

Rev. R. B. White, D. D., said be contended against an urconstitutional action of Lexington Presbytery. He maintained that the decisions of the General Assembly were like the decisions of the supreme courts of the land-the law. The decisions of the Assembly were as binding as the constitution. These decisions were all against this action, as had already been shown. Moreover, this act is unconstitutional because not provided for, and therefore not allowed by the constitution. If we can go beyond the constitution and do anything not forbidden, to what lengths may we not go? That this is not provided for in the constitution cannot be because of an oversight; it was an intentional omission. Although this doctrine of the perpetuity of the office of the ministry was held by the Roman Catholic Church it was also a doctrine of the Protestant Church from Luther and Calvin down.

Rev. William T. Richardson would speak to the law. He claimed to be a strict constructionist, but not in the narrow sense of those who charged the Saviour with breaking the law by heating a man on the Sabbath. He took up the cases mentioned by Dr. Lefevre, and read further in these cases, and showed that the Synod had never reversed the action of the Presbytery. He cited another case in which the Synod had advised a minister to demit the exercise of the of-

His argument from the Form of Government cannot be produced without references and quotations beyond the space we have, It was clear and forcible. .

Rev. W. W. Houston, who was the chairman of the committee that last year took excep ion to the act of the Presbytery, spoke in support of the position then taken. He matetained that the constitution expressly authorizes the Presbytery to withdraw the power to preach from a licentiate, but there was no such enactment in case of an ordained minis'er. If such power were intended to be conveyed it would have been as distincily stated as in the case of a licentiate. W. W. Henry, E-q., said the question was,

Shall we approve or disapprove the action of the Lexington Presbytery? Is it in accordance with the constitution of the Church as we now have it? He was a Presbyterian, not from training, but from conviction. He held that the theory of our Church government is that a Presbytery cannot do what it question to go to vote. finds no authority for in the constitution. The General Assembly is the "supreme court of the Church." He quoted to show that it had power to decide all "questions of doctrine and discipline." This made the action of the Assembly final unless we "secede." The decision of the highest court is the law. It is the office of the court to say what the law means. Now the question is. Has the Ass decided the law in this case? The cases cited by Mr. Richardson only showed that the Synod of New York, that was at that time in loco of the General Assemily, only proved that that body had not censured the Presbytery, was adopted. Presbytery for doing what it had disep proved. The cases already mentioned settled the law of the Church on this point. The Synod at 6 o'clock took a recess till 7:30 P. M.

The Synod resumed its business at 7:30 The Rev. C. H. Read, D. D., presented the narrative of the state of religion; which was adopted.

DEMISSION OF THE MINISTRY.

NIGHT SESSION.

By a resolution of the Synod speeches were limited to ten minutes. Rev. D. C. Irwin said he would speak only because the point be wished to present had had defended the action of Lexington Pres-

It devolves upon show a precept in this book making the prohibiting the Presbytery from withdrawsuch a prohibition in the Scriptures. He is perpetual; yet such an officer may cease to act as elder or deacon. The withdrawing of the right to perform the duties of his office is the withdrawal virtually of the office. When the elder cesses to act under the provisions of the Book be is virtually deposed. If Dr. Ruffner is right in ceasing to discharge the duties of the ministerial office the Presbytery is right in relieving his conscience as to the matter of duty; if he is wrong, then the only course left is to have

of that Presbytery.

He would disembarrass the question of all personal considerations. He would upon no account do anything that could in any way reflect upon Dr. Ruffeer. Nor had the matter of ordination anything to do with the question before us. It all lay in the constitution. This was a constitution of limited powers. The Presbytery has no power but that given in this book. Even an elder cannot be divested of his office except by formal deposition for crime. Rev. C. S. M. See said there was point not yet sufficiently brought out in this to the citizens of Staunton for their hospidiscussion-namely, that the Presbytery is tality; to the churches for the use of their the fountain of authority in our Chuich. Whilst the General Assembly is a higher ju-tion of fare, and to the authorities of the dicatory, it is not the original source of power. That is found in the Presbytery, the Deaf and Dumb and Blind for the en-The principle is analogous to that of the rights of the States in our Government. For prudential reasons there had been silence on the part of the Church in not introducing a special law on this subject. It was deemed best to leave it to the Presbytery, which in such a case acts very much like a chancery court in protecting against the hardships of Statute law.

Bey. N. M. Woods read again from the Digest that a minister could not be deposed but by regular process. This deliverance of 1802 was resifirmed in 1829. Efforts to get a law into the Church allowing this to be done had been made again and again, but had failed. The silence of the Book in not mentioning any such course as that pursued in this case was significant. It gives particular directions for trial, but his not a word as to removing a minister from office in the way that has been done in this instance. Rev. R. C. Walker said that four times Lexington Presbytery had dismissed minis-ters from their office in this same way, and the Synod had always approved their re-cords. This matter had been very carefully considered by the Presbytery, and the mem-bers were fully satisfied their act was for the power to remove a member from the communion when they and the whole commu-nity were satisfied be ought not to be in it. If the position here maintained be true, then the Church court is the only body that caunot exercise common sense in doing what manifestly ought to be done.

J. B. I. Logan, Esq., objected to the form of the resolution because it evaded the point. The minority report did not decide the question of approval or disapproval of the course of the Presbylery, but simply left. Dr. Ruffaer undisturbed in the position given him by the act of his Presbytery. Rev. T. D. Bell said the two reports were not inconsistent. He could vote for both. The first resolution of the minority report, which states that we will not disturb the action of the Presbytery, and the second, which overtures the General Assembly, were not inconsistent with disapproving the re cords of Lexicgion Pre-bytery.

Rev. James Murray, a member of Lexing-ton Presbyters, said he was providentially absent from the me ting of his Presbytery when this case was before it. He would now join the one member of the Presbytery who had opposed its action.

Rev. Enoch Thomas said if the Synod should cecsure the Presbytery of Lexington now, it will censure itself. In the case of R. R. Howison and others the same course was taken, and the Synod approved it. If there had been censure at the outset there would have been no other case. Our fathers endoreed this course. We will censure them it we now condemn the act of the Presbytery. If the Presbytery's act was unconstitutional it was null and void, and Dr. Ruffper is still in his office, and should be required to discharge its duties. Let the Synod be consistent.

Rev. Dr. Pryor alluded to the argument in favor of Lexit gton Presbytery that had been adduced from the fact that similar acts of this Presbytery in the past had gone unreproved. He would quote the Scripture; The times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men to repent." He added that this was the only Presbytery in the Synod that has pursued such a course The Bev. Dr. Brown called Dr. Pryor's attention to the fact that his own Presbytery (East Hanover) had done the same thing : few years stuce.

Rev. J. D. Thomas explained that the proposed criticism of the action of the Presbytery was not properly a censure. Rev. I. W. K. Handy, D. D., said the report of the committee which the majority report preposed to approve said that the action of the Presbytery was "plainly" in opposition to the rules and practices of the Church. The present difference of sentiment shows that this is not "plainly" the opinion of the Church. Dr. Handy's was the last speech made on this question, that had occupied so much of the Synod's time. The tedium of this protracted discussion was relieved by many passes of pleasantry and much spirkling wit, all of which we have teen compelled to omit from want of After public worship the Synod, which the service, repaired to the main audienceroom of the church, and heard Dr. Dabney's address in behalf of the cause of education. At the close of this address, about 10 P. M. the Rev. Dr. Lefevre said it had been his purpose to answer some of the speeches made on the question before the Synod, but be would forego that pleasure and allow the

The ayes and noes were called on the first resolution of the substitute, and it was lost by a vote of 26 ayes to 93 noes. There had been present during the sessions about one hundred and eighty members. This vote, as well as the report of the Com-report, having been arrended by striking out the word "plainly" in the report of the Committee on the Records of Lexington The Rev. E. Thomas, on behalf of himself and others, gave notice of his intention to bring a complaint before the General Assembly against this action of the Synod. Whereupon the Rev. Drs. Pryor and Lefevre were appointed a committee to defend the action of the Synod when such complaint should be made. EDUCATION. After public worship closed in the church the Synod heard Dr. R. L. Dabney in behalt of the cause of education. He presented this cause at the request of the Secretary of Education, Rev. J. N. Waddel, D. D. He would say, in commendation of Mr. Waddel, that in a quiet, modest way he had shown himself competent for the emergency not been fully stated by other speakers who in which he found himself in undertaking this work. He had to begin with debt, yet now this debt bad been discharged. Dr. Waddel had a difficulty, too, in the fact that

Dr. Dabney met the objection that was bethose who would censure the Presbytery to ginning again to be raised in the Church, that beneticiary education led to a spirit of deoffice of the minister perpetual, and thus spoudency. He had compared by an examination of the records of the seminary those ing authority to preach; or they must show who supported themselves and those who were aided. The result of the summation was willing to rest it all upon our Book of showed that there was not an appreciable Government. The office of cider or deacon difference between the two classes. He was glad to say that in our Church the candidates had not shown any deleterious ir fluence from the system of beneficiary education. Dr. Waddel bad informed him that there would be more candidates than there had been calling for aid, and the committee could not bear its burden unless this Synod > would sustain it. He urged that the members of the Synod see that this cause be not neglected in their churches. He would recommend that those who had the means should select and aid some personal friend seeking to enter the ministry. There was no money that could be planted by the hand of benevolence so come when every young man seeking this work would have friends to proffer promptly the needed aid.

> At the close of Dr. Dabney's remarks Dr. Pryor proposed, and it was adopted and present it at the present meeting; and also that a committee of three, with Dr. Dabney as chairman, be appointed to send a circular on this subject to the churches. Committee : Rev. R. L. Dabney, D. D., Rev. J. M. P. Atkinson, D. D., and Elder J. T. Spencer.

Dr. Danney afterwards presented a minute, which was adopted, commending this cause to the churches Rev. Alexander Martin, D. D., of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported that no business had been put into their REDUCED PRICES.

The thanks of the Synod were tendered Female Seminary and of the Institution for tertainments given the Synod. Adjourned at 10:45 P. M. Closed with singing, prayer led by Dr. Pryor, and the a postolic benediction.
